

ENENI ODUWOLE

Eneni Oduwole is a seasoned risk and sustainability management strategist with over 25 years of experience. She has successfully developed and implemented frameworks for Enterprise Risk Management, Business Continuity & Resilience, Security Management, Transport & Logistics, and Sustainability Management. Her career commenced as a bank examiner with the Nigeria Deposit Insurance Corporation and later to notable pioneering roles such as Group Head of Operational Risk Management at StanbicIBTC and Guaranty Trust Bank Plc and Deputy Group Chief Risk Officer at Dangote Industries Limited. She also managed other functions such as Compliance, Environmental and Sustainability Management, and Transport and Logistics Management. Eneni is a Non-Executive Director of ActivEdge Technologies Limited, a Pan-African IT Solutions Provider.

Eneni is the founder and CEO of Alter-Ed Limited, a consultancy specializing in risk, strategy, and sustainability management. She serves on the Governing Council of the Chartered Risk Management Institute of Nigeria and The Qualified Risk Directors Governance Council of The DCRO Institute, USA. Eneni holds several professional certifications, including Fellowships from the Sustainability Professionals Institute of Nigeria, the Institute of Corporate Responsibility and Sustainability, UK, and the Institute of Management Consultants. She is also a WimBoard Fellow. Eneni is dedicated to continuous improvement and inspired by her motto, "Kaizen."

She holds degrees from the University of Calabar, Pan-African University Lagos Business School, and NYU Stern School of Business, and is pursuing a doctorate from the University of Durham and Emlyon Business School. Eneni is recognized as one of Nigeria's 50 inspiring women by Business Day Newspaper and is the first Qualified Risk Director of The DCRO Institute in Nigeria and West Africa, among other accolades. She enjoys mentoring, traveling, cooking, gardening, and interior designing. Eneni is married with children.